A portion of your distribution may be a return of capital. When a mutual fund distributes more than its income and net realized gains, a return of capital may occur. As a result, some or all of the money that you invested in the mutual fund is paid back to you.

The amounts and sources of distributions reported in this Notice are only estimates and do not reflect possible year-end tax adjustments. The Fund or your financial intermediary will send you a Form 1099-DIV for the 2025 calendar year that will report the tax characterization of dividends for federal income tax filing purposes.
